

Critical Insights: James Baldwin

Table of Contents

About This Volume

Morris Dickstein

Career, Life, and Influence

On James Baldwin

Morris Dickstein

Biography of James Baldwin

Barry Mann

The Paris Review Perspective

Richard Beck for The Paris Review

Critical Contexts

James Baldwin in His Time

Douglas Field

Exiled in Paris: The Beginnings

James Campbell

"This Web of Lust and Fury": Harriet Beecher Stowe, James Baldwin's Nineteenth-Century White Mother

Horace A. Porter

Faith in Verse and Fiction: James Baldwin's, Phillis Wheatley's, Octavia E. Butler's, and Tananarive Due's Creation of a Peaceful Space

Mildred R. Mickle

James Baldwin's Critical Reception

D. Quentin Miller

Critical Readings

Looking for Jimmy Baldwin: Sex, Privacy, and Black Nationalist Fervor

Douglas Field

The Tale of Two Cities in James Baldwin's Go Tell It on the Mountain

Charles Scruggs

The Treacherous Body: Isolation, Confession, and Community in James Baldwin

Peter Kerry Powers

Subversive Anti-Stalinism: Race and Sexuality in the Early Essays of James Baldwin

Geraldine Murphy

"Sonny's Blues": James Baldwin's Image of Black Community

John M. Reilly

The Queering of Memory: Nostalgia and Desire in Baldwin's "Going to Meet the Man"

Tiffany Gilbert

On James Baldwin's Another Country

Lionel Trilling

James Baldwin and the "Man"

F. W. Dupee

The Committed Writer: James Baldwin as Dramatist

C. W. E. Bigsby

If the Street Could Talk: James Baldwin's Search for Love and Understanding

Yoshinobu Hakutani

Bearing the Burden of the Blues: If Beale Street Could Talk

Trudier Harris

The Fire Last Time

Henry Louis Gates, Jr.

The Magic of James Baldwin

Darryl Pinckney

James Baldwin: The Risks of Love

Darryl Pinckney

Resources

Chronology of James Baldwin's Life

Works by James Baldwin
Bibliography
Contributors
About the Editor
About The Paris Review
Acknowledgments
Index